

LOVE BEATS 3 R'S AS STUDY COURSE IN SEA COLLEGE

Girls Keep Men from Study, Allen Says.

ROME, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The time is ripe for co-education on the high seas, former Secretary of the Navy, Henry J. Allen, said today. His experience aboard the battleship USS Oregon, which he commanded from 1914 to 1917, convinced him that the presence of young women aboard the ship was a factor in the success of the voyage. He said that the presence of young women aboard the ship was a factor in the success of the voyage. He said that the presence of young women aboard the ship was a factor in the success of the voyage.

"Love and Studies Don't Mix." Three principal objections to nautical co-education were suggested by Mr. Allen. First, the presence of companionable young women distracted the young men from their studies to a disturbing extent. Second, co-education of youths of both sexes started many courtships of varying degrees of intensity. Third, residents in foreign ports at which the ship touched, not having received the American ideas on the co-education of women, misinterpreted the meaning of the venture with resultant complications.

"Originally the cruise was intended to be a study tour," said the former governor, who is a member of the faculty of the Boston university, "but when this was found impracticable because of the inefficiency of male applications, it was decided to try co-education, and we took along less than 100 girls selected from 4,000 who had applied."

TESTIFY CHICAGO WAS GIVEN RIGHT TO DIVERT WATER

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(Special.)—Charles Evans Hughes, special master for the United States Supreme court in the Chicago water diversion controversy, was told today that the war department in 1920 had approved a 4,187 cubic second foot water diversion from Lake Michigan for use in the Illinois waterway from Lockport to Utica.

M. G. Barnes, chief engineer for the Illinois division of waterways, gave the testimony. Mr. Barnes was placed on the stand by counsel for the Chicago sanitary district, the state of Illinois, and allied Mississippi valley states who are opposing the contention of Wisconsin and other lake states that the Chicago water diversion should be completely cut off.

"In Kansas I instituted compulsory arbitration of labor disputes with the greatest success. This was the reason for my great interest in the complex creation of a corporative state as willed by Premier Mussolini."

BURIAL IS HALTED BY WRIT IN WAR OVER CEMETERIES

Worth township farmers, enraged at finding a grave dug in the recently purchased grounds of the Burr Oak Cemetery association, composed of Negroes, caused the arrest yesterday of two grave diggers as trespassers and then with shovels filled the excavation before the funeral cortege arrived.

Carl J. Carlson, deputy sheriff, met the association officials accompanying the body of a Negro and served a writ of injunction obtained earlier in the day from Judge Francis Wilson. The procession wended its way back to town. Association officials said another attempt to bury the body will be made either today or tomorrow.

Attorneys Lee Walker and Arthur A. Huebner of Mount Greenwood yesterday announced they will file an appeal from the recent decision of Circuit Judge Ira Ryner which upheld the result of the special election last April, in which Mount Greenwood voted by a majority of four to become a part of Chicago, in an effort to halt the annexation. City voters Tuesday adopted the plan to annex the village.

Although Mount Greenwood is half surrounded by cemeteries, including Mount Hope, Mount Olivet, Oak Hill, Lincoln, and Mount Greenwood, it does not mean the village is dead, its 5,000 inhabitants agree.

Electric Trains for Service

For six months we have been operating electric trains in our South Side suburban service at Chicago. We are proud of this improved service, which has been hailed as a great contribution to the city's prestige and progress. Some of the outstanding improvements are more and roomier trains, cleaner and more comfortable cars and faster and more convenient schedules.

These results from the millions we have spent are benefits for the patrons of the suburban service. We too shall benefit when the service, which has not paid its way in the past, becomes fully self-supporting. We hope to realize that aim as patronage increases.

We want all Chicagoans to know about our service, and we want more of those who travel to and from the South Side to avail themselves of its advantages. The service is not perfect, but we intend to keep on improving it. In working out our plans, we shall be glad to have our patrons co-operate with us by giving us the benefit of their views.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

"America's Largest and Finest Exhibit of Oriental Rugs"

THE letter to the left tells eloquently the motif back of this sale. It is the most colossal task of our career, and the most important similar selling event you've ever been invited to participate in. Tremors of interest have developed into an avalanche of enthusiasm, and thus, the sale grows greater day by day, as the radical price concessions we are making become more generally known. There will be no let-up—the rapid-fire selling will continue until the job is done—and well done.

NATIONAL CRIME CENSUS PLANNED BY U. S. BUREAU

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

In Chicago the crime center of the United States?

Are the parole and probation laws working out well?

What is the relation of crime to prohibition, automobiles, or the world war?

These and similar vital questions will be answered in an authoritative way in the future if the new plan for standard nationwide crime statistics, soon to be published by the census bureau of the United States department of commerce, is adopted in all the states.

The plan will carry detailed instructions for compiling the statistics, as worked out during the last four years by a committee on records and statistics of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology. Frederic B. Crossley, secretary of the Northwestern University Law school, chairman of the committee, announced the plan yesterday.

Instead of a report on national crime statistics every ten years the census bureau, under the instructions to be sent out, hopes to publish a report every year covering the outstanding facts, beginning this year. At the end of the year law enforcement agencies will be able to get a bird's-eye view of the national crime situation, its wave length, causes and tendencies.

All Crime Phases Covered.

The manual of instructions which the states will be asked to follow covers prisons and reformatories, parole agencies, jails and workhouses, police departments, courts, prosecutors and probation departments.

"The lack of adequate criminal statistics has long been a weak point in the administration of criminal justice in the United States," says the census bureau publication. "In many cities and states police departments, courts and penal institutions neither compile nor publish any criminal statistics whatsoever."

Statistics are especially useful for showing the extent of criminality and what results are obtained by various methods of handling offenders and for indicating needed improvements in methods.

Schedules and forms will be furnished institutions by the bureau and in return for the information each institution will be furnished with a report of tables concerning its own prisoners, for use in annual reports, if desired. This should do away, it is stated, with the possibility of doctored reports, loose talk about crime waves, political information on paroles, and other evils.

SEEK CHANGES IN LAWS

A new campaign against organized crime in Illinois will begin today, when a special committee of the state senate, headed by Andrew Culbertson of Bunker Hill, will meet with Hinton G. Cibaugh, chairman of the parole board, and other organization representatives to draft measures for introduction at the present session of the assembly. The proposed measures will embody drastic changes in the present criminal code of the state and are intended to bring greater efficiency in law enforcement.

One of the most important of these proposed changes is a plan to repeal the law making the jury judge of the law as well as of the fact. The proposal is to limit the jury's power to judging the fact, giving only the court the power to judge the law.

Another measure will seek to send habitual criminals to prison for life, abolishing pardons or paroles for them. A proposal to make impossible pleas of guilty in minor offenses in order to escape trial on more serious charges also will be drafted.

HOLD HUSBAND OF WOMAN FOUND BEATEN TO DEATH

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Dr. Frank R. Loomis was held tonight on suspicion of first degree murder after detectives announced they had discovered three apparent discrepancies in his story of the finding of the body of his wife, Grace, 34, who was clubbed to death in their home last night.

Blood on the physician's overcoat and hat when he went to a police station last night to notify officers, was explained then, officers said, by Dr. Loomis saying he had stooped over to see if his wife were alive. Today, however, police said, he changed his story and denied he touched the body because he knew it was proper to await the arrival of police and the coroner.

Later in the day, when confronted by the finding of blood on his shirt sleeve, he again changed his story, detectives claimed, and stated he started to pick up the body and then placed it back on the floor.

ROB LAWYER AND FIANCEE IN LOOP; GET $2,000 RING

Attorney Julius Rieger, 2859 Logan boulevard, law partner of Municipal Judge George B. Holmes, and Miss Mildred A. Woodnick, 30 years old, 3889 West Jackson boulevard, Rieger's fiancée, were robbed of money and gems valued at more than $2,000 at 6 o'clock last night by a bandit who walked with a revolver into Rieger's office in room 702 of the Burnham building.

Police believed the bandit had followed Miss Woodnick from a jewelry shop in the Capitol building, where she had been having her $2,000 engagement ring cleaned, to Mr. Rieger's office.

The man entered holding a handkerchief over his face with one hand and a revolver in the other. Rieger said he believed he had a confederate outside the office. Rieger ran out into the corridor as soon as the robber had left the office and first district police searched the building, but he had disappeared.

This is news.

In 1926 The Ladies' Home Journal not only maintained, but increased, its supremacy among all women's publications.

The records of 1926 show The Ladies' Home Journal with:

- 1---The largest circulation of any women's publication, by more than 200,000 copies each month.*
- 2---The largest advertising lineage of any monthly women's publication, by more than 230,000 lines.
- 3---And with nearly double the advertising revenue of any national publication (except The Saturday Evening Post) carrying $7,000,000 more of advertising revenue than any other women's publication.

and 1927

The first four months of 1927 show the largest advertising lineage and the largest advertising revenue in the history of The Ladies' Home Journal.

And the April issue—forms have just closed—is the largest in advertising lineage and in advertising revenue ever published.
